Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 09 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly cloudy in west with best sunshine in east. Warm.

This Evening and Tonight:
A fine evening for many and then a mostly dry night. Some clear spells, but evening cloud in the west will spread into many parts overnight. Quite warm and muggy.

Thursday:
Cloudy start for many. Brightening up for most with warm sunny spells but the odd shower possible. Staying cloudy for some western parts with some light rain in far west.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Settled overall, especially in central and southeastern UK where often warm with long sunny/clear spells and light winds. Sometimes cloudier in the far northwest, with showers or rain at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.